Re: World Water Works DAF

Our facility went into production in September of 2005. After running a short while it was evident that our wastewater system needed an upgrade. I contacted World Water Works to see what they had to offer, and was immediately impressed with their system. I was even more pleased to see that I was supporting an Oklahoma based company for our needs. They delivered an impressive system on schedule and even helped with the temporary solution we implemented during our construction phase of the project. Their support during startup and after the sale has been nothing short of excellent. I am looking forward to working with them again in the future to meet our growing needs. I have recommended World Water Works to several other companies that I deal with and they have been equally pleased with the service. I would not hesitate to recommend them to anyone in need of waste water treatment solutions, large or small.

Sincerely,

Norman Robison
